Subject: EMS Systems and Standards Chief Announcement

Orange County Emergency Medical Services (OCEMS) is pleased to announce that Mike De Laby has been promoted to the position of EMS Systems and Standards Chief. As the Systems and Standards Chief, Mike will be responsible for administering the regulatory and oversight aspects of emergency services as they relate to medical systems and clinical standards.

Mike possesses a Master's of Science in Nursing Administration and a Graduate Certificate in Nursing Education. He is certified as a Public Health Nurse, Certified Flight Registered Nurse, Critical Care Registered Nurse and is currently licensed as a Paramedic. Since 2012, as an EMS Coordinator and in collaboration with the EMS Administrator and EMS Medical Director, Mike has developed and implemented strategic initiatives to coordinate, develop and implement the goals, objectives and priorities for the Orange County EMS system.

With the continued development and administration of the EMS system Mike is well prepared to provide the leadership and facilitation necessary in seeing the EMS system well into the future. We welcome Mike into his role as the Systems and Standards Chief.
