Read this nonfiction book!

A Seed Grows
by Antoinette
Portis

Farmer, Farmer

Farmer, Farmer turn around
With hands out, turn in a circle

Farmer, Farmer hoe the ground
Pretend to hold hoe handle and "hoe" the ground

Farmer, Farmer plant your seeds
Pretend to take seeds from palm and plant them

Farmer, Farmer pull the weeds
Pretend to pinch and pull weeds from ground

Farmer, Farmer water your plants
Pretend to pour water from a watering can

Look out Farmer! Ants in your pants!
Dance around like crazy shaking hands!

Grown-up Tip

Science is fun! Talk about scientific processes you see in everyday life like the weather, seasons or the plant cycle. Take a minute to observe nature and ask your child questions about what they see. In OC Public Libraries the simplest nonfiction (fact) books have XP on the label. If you can't find any, the library staff is there to help!
